Presentation and discussion on:

'CO2 and You – GHG emissions and the business of carbon trading'

Wednesday 6th October 2010

18.30 – 20.30

At

Caisse des Dépôts

Salle Solferino

15, Quai Anatole France, 75007 Paris

Our panel of experts will be:

Alexandre Borde

A French APO at FAO Headquarters from 1997 to 1999 and previous environmental economist at World Bank, Alexandre Borde now runs his own environmental company, 'Carbonium' specialising in "carbon brokerage." Carbonium develops CDM and JI projects under the Kyoto Protocol, and specializes in renewable energy projects - mostly small scale hydro, wind, biomass and biogas. Whilst based in Paris, Carbonium has agents in Burkina Faso in Africa, Viet Nam in Asia, and soon in Latin America.

Christian de Perthuis

Christian de Perthuis, Directeur du PREC, Programme de Recherche en Economie du Climat and Professeur associé à l'Université de Paris Dauphine where his research focuses on the economics of climate change. Dr. de Perthuis served a central role in researching and designing France's domestic offset program and is known as one of the international specialists on climate change. He is the author of several articles and has just published 'Et pour quelques degrés de plus..., Changements climatique: incertitudes et choix économiques' on the subject of how to reduce the impact of our economies of global warming.

Olivier Sartor

Oliver Sartor, Chargé d'études au sein de CDC Climat Recherche responsible for research into international carbon markets, carbon pricing, and competitiveness. He is an expert on climate change policy in Australia and the organization of the carbon trading markets of Asia Pacific and Australia.
